

User Manual

1. Open the web app. It should look like this:

Howdy! Welcome to our Amazing Sentimental Analyzer!

Choose the Application:

2. Select an application. You can choose from single item, two-item, three-item, and four-item. In this preview we will choose two-item and this screen should appear:

Howdy! Welcome to our Amazing Sentimental Analyzer!

Choose the Application:

Two-Item Comparison

Two-Item Comparison

Item 1:

Jane Doe

Item 2:

John Doe

Run Comparison

3. Enter what you want to search into the available boxes. In this example we will choose Cats and Dogs. Then press “Run Comparison” and this page should appear:

Howdy! Welcome to our Amazing Sentimental Analyzer!

Choose the Application:

Two-Item Comparison

We predict Dogs is better!

	Cats	Dogs
Number of Positive Tweets:	57 (43.85%)	38 (38.38%)
Number of Negative Tweets:	22 (16.92%)	14 (14.14%)
Number of Neutral Tweets:	51 (39.23%)	47 (47.47%)
Total Number of Tweets:	130	99

4. After you browse the statistics and look at the number of tweets collected. Number of positive tweets, negative tweets, and neutral tweets. You can then scroll down the page and look at the actual tweets themselves. The top positive tweets and the top negative tweets.

Cats's Most Positive Tweets

Dogs's Most Positive Tweets

Cats's Most Negative Tweets

Dogs's Most Negative Tweets

5. This concludes the User Manual for our product. Feel free to play around and enter your own search items. If you find yourself spending more than 8 hours a day on our product, you may have a problem. Call 1-800-SIGNOFF to get the help you need.

